

Access and Equity Policy and Procedures

Purpose

As a values-based organisation, Australian College is committed to ensuring access and equity to all students or prospective students. The intent of this policy and procedure is to outline how the organisation is responsive to student's individual needs whose age, gender, cultural or ethnic background, disability, sexuality, language skills, literacy or numeracy level, unemployment, imprisonment or remote location may otherwise become a barrier to accessing Australian College's programs or a successful training outcome.

Scope

This policy defines how Australian College provides an inclusive education service and a learning environment which is free from discrimination, harassment and victimisation and one in which student opportunities for successful completion are optimised.

Definitions

Access and Equity - Access and equity means policies and approaches aimed at ensuring that Vocational Education and Training is responsive to the individual needs of clients whose age, gender, cultural or ethnic background, disability, sexuality, language skills, literacy or numeracy level, unemployment, imprisonment or remote location may present a barrier to access, participation and the achievement of suitable outcomes.

Discrimination - Discrimination is treating, or proposing to treat, someone unfavourably because of a personal characteristic protected by the law. This includes bullying someone because of a protected characteristic.

Direct Discrimination - Direct discrimination happens when someone is treated unfavourably because of a personal characteristic protected by the law. Direct discrimination often happens because people make unfair assumptions about what people with certain personal characteristics can and cannot do.

Indirect Discrimination - Indirect discrimination occurs when an unreasonable requirement, condition or practice is imposed that disadvantages a person or group because of a personal characteristic.

Policy

Australian College is committed to ensuring that all enrolled students have access to educational opportunities.

Australian College applies easily defined and tangible rules in support of access and equity, namely:

- All students are given fair and reasonable opportunity to enrol, undertake and complete their training within expected and agreed timeframes.
- All staff are given fair and reasonable opportunity to participate in relevant decision-making processes and the allocation of resources and services as required to fulfil their duties and responsibilities.
- Discrimination, direct or indirect, is not tolerated and will lead to disciplinary action of the offender if proved.

Perceived deficiencies in the Access and Equity Policy and Procedures and its implementation are documented and reviewed as part of the Continuous Improvement Policy and Procedures. Deficiencies are investigated to determine whether a problem or policy discrepancy exists, and if so, the impact of that deficiency, how the policy should be amended to eliminate the deficiency and whether the suggested amendment is consistent with a 'best practice strategy'.

The Chief Executive Officer will be responsible for the implementation of the Access and Equity legislation and timely distribution to its employees and students.

Legislation

Australian College acknowledges the legal responsibility that reasonable steps have been taken to prevent discrimination and harassment from occurring in the workplace and learning environment.

Australian College abides by the human rights and anti-discrimination legislation that protects those involved in the training system. This legislation makes discrimination and harassment in the provision of education, employment and the provision of goods and services unlawful.

Details concerning the scope of Australian College's Access and Equity Policy are clearly displayed throughout the organisation.

Equity and Access

Australian College is committed to providing support services and equal access to opportunities for students with a disability, in accordance with the provisions of the Disability Discrimination Act (1992).

Australian College will always respect a student's right to privacy and confidentiality in relation to their disability and be sensitive to the needs of students with a disability. Students with a disability are required to have the ability to fulfil the core requirements and satisfactorily complete competencies/learning outcomes within all courses to attain the relevant award. However, it is recognised that flexibility in arrangements may need to be implemented. Such arrangements may be negotiated with the Head of Faculty and/or the CEO.

Assessments conducted as part of recognition assessment are moderated alongside other samples of regular assessment processes to ensure consistency and parity of assessment across all instances of assessment, whether undertaken at the end of a course of training or as a result of recognition application.

Our student selection processes are non-discriminatory and are based on objective entry criterion. For more information see the Enrolment Policy and Procedure.

Australian College is committed to supporting students with special needs. We do this by identifying special needs and, where appropriate, make reasonable adjustments to the learning and assessment environment. For those students who are financially disadvantaged, the organisation attempts to minimise barriers to application and enrolment through the use of payment plans and where appropriate waiving of fees.
